

Surrogate Questionnaire

1. Should mental individuals be able to take part in being a surrogate?
2. Should more strict requirements be in place regarding the mental capacity of a surrogate parent?
3. Should a person be evaluated mentally and consistently for a certain period of time before allowed to carry a baby?
4. How important are separation issues?
5. Do you think that separation issues take place once the surrogate parent gives the baby back to the intended parents?
6. Should the surrogate parent be available to have full access or a relationship with the child after birth?
7. So, after the surrogate has been evaluated psychologically with extensive assessments why do some still have separation issues?
8. Do you think having legal advice is necessary for the intended parents and surrogate?
9. Does a person truly understand their mental challenges?
10. Are there any positives when it comes to separation of the child from their surrogate mom?
11. Does this affect the child?
12. Did you know that even brief separation can impair the brain development of a young child or even after birth?
Yes
No
Had no Idea
13. Is there a such thing as having Coeraon to have no feeling to the baby?